We are a small church located in the northeast part of Santa Ana. We have a small number of young people who would be involved in this program; the group that we are most focused on at this time is our 8-12 year olds. On occasion, there could be some slightly older or younger attendees. Interested candidates would be interviewed by 1-2 lay persons and our minister. The starting date would be as soon as possible. We would provide all materials necessary for the preparation and presentation of lessons by the teacher. Some specifics follow:

- The teacher will attend all Sunday services (at 10:30 AM) prepared to give a lesson. If no students are present, the teacher will still be paid. The pay is $50.00 per week.
- The teacher would work with a member of the church on lessons. The desire is that there would be some continuity between the lessons and the subject matter of the scripture and sermon for any given Sunday.
- Proof of Covid vaccination is preferable. However, if not vaccinated, there would be some testing criteria that will need to be met. Details of this process are still being discussed.
- The candidate will need to provide their own transportation.
- We, of course, are looking for someone with similar Christian views as those expressed within the UCC.
